

Pick-Up & Loading Disclosure

1. Please note that we offer an extremely efficient delivery service which may save you time, effort, and money.
2. If you chose to pick up material, please note that our products are heavy, often dirty, and can be problematic or dangerous to transport. We waive responsibility to any damage to your vehicle, trailer, or any personal items during the loading process of CLD material.
3. Please understand your vehicles payload before requesting product. Our staff may assist you with weights per product and quantity, to best load your vehicle. Our staff reserves the right to refuse the loading of specific products or vehicles. We are not accountable for the safety of your load, but we promote the highest safety standards available.
4. Note the tire pressure, strength of your springs, functionality of your lights and blinkers, electronic brakes (if applicable), and overall condition of your vehicle and compartment where you wish to place the product you are purchasing.
5. Vehicles must be loaded by our operators, as they have been trained on the operation of skid steers, and safety of product handling.
6. To protect your vehicle, please provide wood sheeting for the base of your trailer or vertical placement against back ramp, padding or blankets to prevent debris from scratching the walls of your car, and bring straps and/or tarps to tie down and cover any loose material. We load at your risk, and are not held responsible for any potential accidents. Please consider our delivery system for safe and efficient handling.
7. Our staff reserves the right to refuse any loading requests based on all relevant conditions. We focus first on safety, and will make any recommendations to ensure you are loaded as safely and securely as possible. The safety of everyone on the road is very important to us.
